HAMPTON PLAYERS WILL PRESENT THE RAINMAKER

"Drought's drought—and a dream's a dream," says Noah, the harsh voice of reality, in Hampton Players' forthcoming production, "The Rainmaker," which opens June 21 for four week-ends at their new theatre, 129 Pacific ave. in Redondo Beach.

But somehow the drought and the dreams become interwoven in this plain midwestern family's life, as their fading hopes are reinforced by the intensity of a dynamic stranger, and even Noah and his books cannot hold out against the compelling dream of Starbuck, Rainmaker. Despite the depressing setting of a parched cattle ranch and the underlying loneliness of all the characters, it is a story that comes alive with beauty and humor and romance, and takes an audience to its heart. The title role is played by John Drake, who comes from Utica, New York, where he did a great deal of acting and directing in stock, community and college. John now makes his home in Torrance, and with the part of Starbuck, creates his first role in the West.

Thelma Ledwidge is Director of this show, with Dorothy Tunis assisting. The dates will be June 21, 22, 28 and 29, and July

But this hypothesis appears to presuppose a transformation of Christianity, or a revival of its primitive spirit, which would in itself amount to a revolution.—Edward Hallett Carr.
